Adopt an Athlete Program

Why adopt an athlete?
The value of the services and coaching provided through each MWAS Athlete Scholarship is worth close to $10,000 per year. In order for the MWAS to be financially sustainable, athletes are required to contribute a small levy towards the cost of their services. By adopting* an athlete, the athlete's levy will be waived or refunded and you will contribute towards MWAS' costs of servicing the athlete and our community's coaches and officials.
 The term 'adopt' means to support an athlete. Not to take custody.*

Price
The suggested adoption amount of one athlete for a year is $1,000. If you choose to pay a higher rate, every dollar you give in excess of $1,000 will be provided to the athlete for additional services or travel expense support.

What's in it for you?
You can receive:
- A great feeling of ongoing satisfaction, especially when the athlete meets you and thanks you
- The chance to promote your support to your clients
- Updates from the athlete about their performances and progression
- If the athlete becomes a famous or successful sports star, you will have supported them at a critical point of their career and they will never forget that
- Your name or business will be acknowledged on the MWAS website and the MWAS Annual Report
- You or your business will be publically thanked in the next MWAS E-News after the 'adoption'
- Acknowledgement from the athlete when they speak to media and people within the community

If you would like additional promotional benefits, please contact MWAS to arrange for a payment directly to the MWAS, instead of a donation to the Australian Sports Foundation.

Thought starters and gifts…
- Does someone in your family love sport, but does not want or need anything for their birthday or Christmas? What about adopting an athlete in honour of them?
